is willing to fight any man in erica at 118 pounds for a purage of work, but the mistake had been made, work, but the mistake had been made, and it was fatal. Garrison has an over-whelming amount of confidence in his powers. Vanity figures largely in his make-up, and possess. powers. Vanity figures largely in his LIGHT. make-up, and no actor ever makes greater plays for the plaudits of the multitude than "the Snapper." He fairly yearns for the flattering praise that every winning jockey gets, and yesterday he tried to make a grand stand finish which would earn him undiving tame.

yesterday he tried to make a grand stand finish which would earn him undying fame.

No one but a stupid stable boy would ever think of letting a dangerous competitor out of a tigat pocket. But this is just what Garrison did. Domino was as securely locked in behind Henry of Navarre. Nahma and Dobbins as though he were in his stall. Garrison, however, swings Henry of Navarre and looks for Domino with an action that said plainly as words could convey the meaning: "Come on and finish with me."

Supremely confident, he let Domino range alongside and was beaten a short head. This was not his only blunder. Instead of forcing the pace, which was the only way in which Domino could be beaten, Garrison lay second to Nahma, who was crawling along at a snail's pace over the hill. He also took the worst of the start and rode a bad, lil-judged race from the beginning.

Many bitter and caustic comments were made yesterday because Gutta Percha, the hot favorite in the Cassanova Stakes, was beaten out by Sabilla. The latter is owned by Charlie Little-field, if, a brother of Fred Little-field, who rode the favorite. Naturally the peculiar circumstances in the case aroused suspicion, but Gutta Percha may be overrated. The public saw her only once, when she beat Keenan easily enough. Whether that form proved her ability to give a lot of fast filles twelve pounds each is a question. Judgment should be suspended until Gutta Percha proves her real worth. The filly got away badly yesterday, and was driven hard from the start.

A beautiful hurdle race was run at Providence yesterday. Five horses fell, one breaking his neck, and an 100 to chance captured the prize.

Senator Grady, Domino, Henry of Na-varre and Dobbins are eligible to the Bel-mont Stakes, at a mile and a furlong, which will be run next Tuesday.

Stonenell and Correction should make a good match. At the distance, five fur-longs, the mare will be very hard to beat, providing she is not raced in the mean time. She goes wrong very quickly.

It was a mistake to start Rubic against such crack-a-jacks as Dor Dobbins, and Henry of Navarre. I con could have won the six furlong in which he was also entered.

Bookmaker Munsell, who laid odds against the horses in the Brooklyn Handleap, is said to be missing. It is also said that he has not cashed numerous tickets which won on the Brooklyn Handleap, Munsell is an old bookmaker and well known in the ring. It is asserted by several of his friends that he confessed himself short, but expressed confidence in his ability to make good. It is hardly probable that Munsell has welched. The chances are that he is making book at some other track and will come back with funds to make good his obligations.

Illuminating the Stomach by Electric Light."

" Medical Electricians have recently devised a plan by which the interior of the human stomach may be illuminated for examination. The patient is laid upon the operating table and a slender tube, carrying a glass bead upon its end, is introduced into the stomach. A small light inside the bead is supplied by fine wires running out through the tube and connected to a small battery. The interior of the stomach is plainly lighted and all its parts are brought into view by a small movable mirror at the end of the tube." [Quoted from the WORLD Encyclopedia Britan-
